“ I never had the opportunity to meet Ms Bette but when we got to chatting on the phone we just kinda forgot about everyone else. She never told me she was a nurse but now it sure makes sense with all she seemed to know about the healthcare business. She adored her family, bragged everytime we spoke and worried terribly about Phillip and that he was doing too much for her. The Lords presence shined through her even over the phone and I can tell she passed that on as I also spoke to Phillip a few times and his good nature matched hers. You all are in my prayers I know she leaves behind many that love her.
