“ Chad, Trish, Deb, Joe & Korie: Seems like it was only yesterday that I saw CJ when I was leaving KC. He was a friendly, beautiful child and I will surely miss him. His facial features remind me so much of Chad when he was that age. A good looking young man. I will miss him and I loved him like I do his Grandma Deb. My truly best friend of 40 some years. If I could take the pain away, I surely would. I am so truly sorry. He was a good kid. Love Deb & Terry (Omaha NE)

“ I remember once during the summer years ago me, Kenzie, and all her brothers decided to play our version of hide and seek, we called it 30 days of night. I heard the seeker approaching and I still hadn't found a place and CJ waved me over to hide with him. It's a silly memory, but it shows the kind of person he was. Rest easy CJ.

“ Oh CJ... You were my brother, one of my bestfriends. We talked on a regular basis. I have way to many memories to review. But they flood my mind almost all of the day. You were so good to me. Always there when i needed someone.. i miss you so very much. I can hardly wrap my head around the fact that ill never be able to just enjoy your presence again.. i can say that i never got as excited to see any of my other friends as much as i did you. Idk why, you just had that effect over me. This all seems so surreal. I know your by my side still now though and forever. I can still hear your voice in my head. It makes me smile. Im gonna miss you Chancellor Joseph Lane, more than youd ever think possible.. I love you, im glad you get to be with Ashton now though. Youve been talking about that alot lately.. sleep easy handsome. Til we meet again. -Your loving sister. ❤️

“ I've known you for a very long time and always considered you family chance. I know your safe now and at peace. Fly high with the angels and keep an eye out on everyone cause I know they sure could use it. I remember when I first seen you again for the first time since I was younger when you lived over across the street from my uncle shawns old house behind diamond Joe's. You were outside shooting hoop and me and Sami were outside smoking. she said oh he's cute who is that...lol so we ended up hanging out and our memories went from there.I remember when you would come over to see Sammys and I would always say chancy chancy wets in his pantsy just playing around like I always did with you. I will never forget you and still can't believe any of this. You were just beginning your life but god had a different plan for you with him instead. Your impact on everyone's life will always be remembered by so many. I'm just thankful I got the chance to meet such a wonderful fun loving person like you. R.I.P chancy

“ There's so many memories but some of my favorite s and the ones that really show his heart would be before I even met him in person, he took the liberty to message me on fb telling me that I should be careful who I hangout with, he said I was to smart and i had a chance at a good future, not to go down a road I don't belong on. He cared about ME and my LIFE before I officially met him in person. I still have that message. I also have countless memories of him over at my BF(austin) always being a good friend, Austin true friend since little kids they shared an amazing friendship. He always knew how to make us smile on the worst days...last time I saw him he was twerking all over our room. Lol it still makes me laugh picturing it now. His heart was huge.. He cried for us when we lost our twins...I bet he is with them right now, he is their godfather. I'm sure he's with them right now god blessc your soul. Love austin and sherry you will always have a place in our hearts.

“ Man so many memories with this guy. Same baseball team same neighbor hood same hobbies and interest. He was the ying to my yang he was such a legit person definantly one of a kind. It's so unnerving that he is gone it's a really weird feeling knowing that he's gone I'm having a hard time believing it still. This doesn't seem real. We always had each others back we referred to each other as soldiers because we've been threw so much together and never left one behind. I miss you so much and could go on for days about how I feel about this man. God bless your soul. Look over us until we meet again. I love u bro.
