“ Justin was such a sweet and adorable little boy. When he was walking but not talking very much we all went to the museum in St. Louis and saw the dinosaur skeleton. He was real excited about that . He growled to show us what a dinosaur sounded like. That same day he fell asleep in my arms while we were watching the stars at the planetarium As a toddler that was just beginning to talk, he would always ask if I was ok every time I went to the bathroom. Fond memories I have.
