“ We will be sharing memories and celebrating her life on Monday may 30 at her home, all her friends and family are invited. If you have any photos of Karen you would like to share, bring them also. I am not mourning her death, she lived her life as she wanted to, she died peacefully in her home with her long time companion and care giver, Rick and her brother and sisters by her side. She will be greatly missed and I take comfort in knowing she is no longer in pain, I love you Karen, give mom and dad and grandpa a big hug from all of us, Dina ♡♡

Nicholas I have lots of great stores, here's one of my favorite , your Aunt was dating my brother and she just got her permit it could of been her license but it was snowing out me and my brother at her house, lol don't know why but my brother was able to talk Mrs. Lee into letting Karen go with us to check the streets to see if they were going to call off. School , we just got down the street and Doug let Karen drive she was going pretty good going up 69 highway she started to slide so Doug told her to pull in to the Claycomo plaza but she missed the entrance and went down the right of it (back then it was a hill) when she hit the bottom there was a drop off we all hit our heads on the roof Doug finally got her stop there was no damage to the car or us Doug told her never again me and Karen just laughed cause we knew he would let her drive again

“ I want to express my sincere sympathy for the loss of your loved one and share the hope promised in the Bible.

God has set a day in which he purposes to judge the inhabited earth in righteousness by a man whom he has appointed, and he has furnished a guarantee to all men in that he has resurrected him from the dead. (Acts 17:31)

If your heart yearns to see a loved one again, study the Bible to make this resurrection hope your very own.
