“ I know her life was hard and mostly by her own doings, but she was still a human being like all of us in every other way. Tragic and unfortunate any way I look at it. I loved her as a human being, as a "once" sister-in-law. I have prayed for her soul many times since I got the news, only God knows if she really is finally at peace. My most sincere sympathy for Glen, Lonnie, Connie (my ex), Julie and the entire Miller family. I will refrain from the visitation so as not to risk making anyone feel uncomfortable. You all need this time to be together. I hope that Ramona found Jesus in heart and spirit at least one time in her life and meant it. Once saved, always saved, That's God's PROMISE (Book of John).. God said he will NEVER let us go even if we one day deny Him, nothing can take us away from Him, No work can get us into Heaven and no work can keep us out if at once we believe(d). We are still His child through Jesus no matter what.. Our Father will never kick us out of the house for anything. I pray, even if she was but a little child on earth many years ago, that she at least ONCE accepted Jesus with all her heart. Amen and God be with you too. My prayers.
