“ I will always remember that highly intelligent man always thinking. His laughter and big smile. His crazy, goofy, outlandish sense of humor! His nomad ways...always traveling...what is the next big adventure? Always straightforward and matter of fact logic. A great father and family man. You will be greatly missed! My heart goes out to Denise, Nate, Gabe and Shilo...big hugs to all of you! Reca

“ I'll always cherish all of the good times we had in Missouri when we would come stay with you while growing up. The fun times we had at Shwagstock, man, that was a trip!! I can honestly say that I know that you were proud of the woman that I became (even if it did take some time). You were a man of such confidence, unconditional love, and full of adventure. I'm going to try as best as I can to keep this family close, just like you wanted. I'm going to miss you with every part of my heart. I know that you are up in heaven dancing with mom, grandma, papa, and all of the other angels. Keep your eyes on us from up there, guide us in our right path! I love you more than words can express. You will always have a special place in my heart. I will miss you but I know we'll be together again. Fly free Uncle Randy❤️

“ Dad,

Let me start by saying thank you. Thank you for everything you've taught me. For always being there for me. For continuing to be here for me.

You've always been an incredible man. A man who loves unconditionally, who is accepting of every single person who crosses his path. A man who can start a conversation with anyone and make everyone smile. A man of his word, a peacemaker, and a loving, caring, kind husband, father, grandpa, brother, and friend. You've made an impact on more people's lives than I'm sure you ever imagined or even intended. You always had an air about you that was fun, funny, that people just wanted to be around.

You've taught me to think before I speak, especially when you lost your ability to talk. I watched you, and saw that because you were no longer able to speak that you had time to think about everything before saying it. You learned to only say what was necessary. There was no longer the ability to blurt something out, whether out of frustration or not and hurt someone's feelings. Your words were always thought through. I remember you telling me (on paper) that I shouldn't say things or respond so quickly and I know it's because you weren't able to speak so fast that you learned that not everything needed to be said. You were an incredibly smart man.

You could build and fix anything. And I mean anything.

You also wasn't just a one car or one brand kind of guy. You were open to everything and showed excitement to everything - where as I know some people would be like oh that's not the brand I like (etc). You made people feel special no matter what may have been your preference. If someone showed you something they were proud of, you really cared and really showed it.

You were also a goofball!!! You made things SO MUCH FUN. Both you and mom were loved by all of my friends because you were so goofy and fun.

I loved driving places in the front seat with you, and will never forget listening to Pink Floyd and your hand being a spider and tickling my leg, and I'd have to hit your hand to make the spider stop. But of course it would come alive again and get me again! You always had fun music playing, the best mix of music I've ever heard! You really loved a variety of everything. You were always taking photos and recording, and I am so grateful for that. We have so many incredible memories filmed because of your love for technology. You were so talented on computers and photoshop.

I wish I could have learned so much more from you dad.

Thank you for taking care of a pool for us to grow up in, I know that was hard work especially after coming home from a long night of work. You did things right away and never put things aside to do later. You made holidays incredibly fun. I loved how you would jingle bells on Christmas Eve and make a lot of magical noise for us three kids. We knew it was you but it was so much fun and made us that much more excited for the morning. I hope I can make things as much fun for Landon as you made for us kids.

Thank you for all the family vacations and never actually turning the car around!

Thank you for everything. This letter would be the size of a novel if I kept thinking and writing of all the amazing memories I have with you. You are the best.

Thank you for always loving me and my family. Thank you for being the very best dad ever. Thank you for being the very best grandpa ever. Thank you for your strength and fighting the cancer as long as you did. You really are a fighter who had so much life and love left to give, but God was ready for you to come home. I know you have the biggest angel wings. I know there is a reason for everything, and by that there is comfort. Thank you for all the love you've shown this world.

Thank you for continuing to visit me in my dreams. I'm so glad you are alive and whole again.

I love you so much dad. You are cool as a fool in a swimming p p p pooooool.

I love you and I know when the day comes for me to go home you will be there to welcome me with your arms wide open.

Again thank you for everything.

Love you forever and your name will always live on.

Gabrielle (now Capraro which I know you'd be so proud of). ❤️
