“ I called today for my daughter to see Dr. Goswami again. Its been about two years and the news of his passing has truly saddened and shocked us both. As all the preceeding testimonies read, we too thoroughly loved and respected him. He was down to earth and a real no BS therapist who truly wanted the best for my daughter. Hes the only one she ever wanted to talk to or see subsequently. One particularly bad incident, when she was at her lowest, he called my cell phone that evening to check on her and really talked w me like a friend would, about raising teenagers and their trials and tribulations. He genuinely cared about our well being. This is a huge loss to the field of mental health. Thank you Rivander for all you did to help so many on this planet. Your time here was cut much to short.

“ Dr Goswami helped me in ways no one ever had. He was an amazing doctor and you could tell he really cared about his patients. I still miss seeing him every month and receiving the inspiration and help that only he could provide. My prayers still go out to his family and friends.

“ I called to make a follow up appointment with Dr. G... I must say, I had to pull over when they told me he had passed.

My thoughts are with his family as I can only imagine the loss they are feeling....he was just my psychiatrist, however he truly made an strong impact on my life he was always so organic.

Rest well, Dr. G.

“ I saw Dr. Goswami only twice. He made a huge impact on me. He was straight to the point and had his patients' best interest in his mind and heart. I could see that clearly after just two visits. He wanted to see me a month later because he knew that a lot of things can happen in only 30 days. He was already caring for me after only about five minutes of knowing me. He felt like a brother, father, best friend, and I only saw him twice in my life! He quickly became a hero to me. I will always remember his wise advice throughout the rest of my life. He was a kind, gentle, loving, and caring soul who thought about his patients' well being over his own! I wish he was still here, but he has left such a huge imprint on me and his patients and colleagues that he will live on forever in our hearts. I have no idea why he left us so early, but I will always love him. Dr. Goswami was and always will be a true hero and a special person to everyone who knew him and even to those who did not know him but who had just heard about him. I miss him very much. Thank for making a huge impact on my life Dr. Goswami. I will love you forever and will never forget you. I hope you are at peace after a long career in which you brought so much peace to others. Your spirit will live on and on and continue to shine a light on everyone whose soul you touched with your gentle caress of boundless love!

“ Dr. Ravinder Goswami was one of my very favorite people. He changed my life and helped me more than anyone in dealing with my bipolar and of mental issues. He taught me so much and listened so patiently. I found out today and I heart broken.

“ When I learned of Dr. Goswami’s death, I was at a loss for words. I was diagnosed as bipolar over 35 years ago. Over the years I have seen a number of psychiatrists. Out of them all, Dr. Goswami was without a doubt my favorite. He always had a kind word, and seemed more like a special friend than a doctor. The world has lost a very special man. My sympathies to his family.

“ Donnie Gregg , I have seen Dr Goswami for about 5 or 6 years. He has been the only psychiatrist I have ever seen, he far outweighed my pre judgment of using a doctor in his position. I very much liked talking to him, his expressions and smiles could cheer up even the sadest person. I told the office that 'He will be a great soul to be missed'. R.I.P. Brother

“ I am still in shock and disbelief. A trusted, kind friend has left my life. Dr. Goswami was a wonderful, caring doctor to me. The last time we met, we spoke of memories and death. I will never forget his comforting, wise words: "the most precious gift we leave our children are memories. Make them and then share." I will miss him and his wisdom. Deb T.
