“ I have known Bob since the middle 50's. Sometimes it seems he was like a brother and a special friend to me. I haven't seen him for awhile but he still has the same smile and a twinkle in his eyes. I enjoyed his book. He really put a lot of thought and work into the book. Rest in Peace Bob. Your friend, Freda

“ It has been many, many years since we last saw Bob, but I have never forgotten him. He once had a leather shop next to my parent's craft shop in Raytown. I still have the leather and wood nameplate he made for my desk sitting on it here in my writer's studio in the Ozarks. I was just thinking of him last week when I looked at it. My thoughts go out to his friends and family. RIP, Bob.

“ Diane and I reminisced with each other of the many times Bob spent with us.thru the years . Some were really fun times and as siblings there was sadness as well.
But it brought back a fondness and the good memories of him.
